Resignation of Prof. Yandell .- It is currently eported, indeed we may state it as a fact, that his gentleman has resigned his professorship in sentiment to the other stockholders of the comthe Medical Department of the University of this city. We have not learned the reasons assigned hy the Doctor for his resignation, hut we understand that it is probably induced by the purpose of removing to Memphis.

Dr. Yandell has long held a prominent connecion with medical teaching in the West, having been elected to a professorship in Transylvania Unniversity, in the days of the highest prosperiy of that renowned school, when he was himself quite young, and having continued uninterruptedly, we helieve, as a public teacher up to the resent time. He came to this city in 1837, and ined in the establishment of the then Medical Institute, now Medical Department of the University of Louisville, and contributed his fuil share in securing for it its early success. In the two schools, also, in which he has passed his profes-sional career, it has been his fortune to be associated with some of the most distinguished medical men of the day, among whom we may mention the great pioneers of medical teaching in the Mississippi valley, Caldwell, Drake and Dudley .-We trust that if he should remove to a distant city, his days of activity and usefulness may he prolonged into a green old age.

The resolutions adopted, approve of the late mpromise, the new policy, the reduction of stock, the propriety of fixing the 10th day of next June as the time when all stockholders must make the loan and pay up installments, and that from that day no loan or installments should he accepted by the company, and all who have refused up to that time should be cut off from the

THE WAR IN EUROPE.

MASONIC TEMPLE, LOUISVILLE, KY, May 17th, 1859. The call for a meeting of the stockholders i the Pacific Railroad Company was responded to hy a large attendance of those interested in this national enterprise, at the Masonic Temple, in the city of Louisville. On May 17th, at 11 o'clock A. M., the meeting was organized. On motion of Wm. Garvin, Jacob Swigart, Esq., was appointed Chairman, and Col. J. S. Wallace.

Secretary. The Chairman explained the object of the neeting, when Dr. Fowlkes, the President of the ompany, made an elahorate explanation of the ondition of the affairs of the company, and submitted a printed report which was made to a previous meeting of the stockhoders, held in New Orleans, and also a supplementary report. (The New Orleans report was published some days since in this paper.) The supplementary report is

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS. We have presented to the public, through the roceedings of the late New Orleans Convention, nelaborate report, designed to give a complete an elahorate report, designed to give a complete history of the compromise, the new policy, the indehtedness, property, and aftairs generally of the company. We deem it not necessary here to do more than refer to that report, and hring to your notice one or two additional matters. We expect every day to receive information from Texas that the State suit has been finally disposed of. When we shall get this information, at least half of the thirty days allowed to pay the first installment will have expired; and we shall not have more time left us than will he necessary to travel to Texas, from Memphis, to make the payment. It will be seen then how important it is that every stockholder should make his loan, and pay unpaid installments at once, so that we may oay unpaid installments at once, so that we may know what amount of money we shall recieve from this source, and what sum will have to he rendered stock belonging to the company, amount-ing to one million dollars. We offer this first to our stockbolders; if they do not want to take it, there are other capitalists who can be induced, no doubt, to take it, with the influences and advantages it will give them. It is not only proper to pay the first installment, but the total indebtedness pay the first institute, out the total and obtainess should be extinguished at once, without availing ourselves of the time given us by the terms of the compromise. A payment of the total indehtedness would at once restore confidence and give credit, which could he made available to the enterprise, both in and out of Texas. When we failed last January to consummate the settlement then on last January to consummate the settlement then on hand, a large proportion of the funds which had been raised for that purpose, were withdrawn from my hands. The New Orleans money was withdrawn generally; the Ohio money was retained by the collecting agent; so with the Missouri money. Unly the Kentucky, Tennessee, Alahama and Virginia money, and partial small sums from other places, were left in my hands. That money has heen used to protect the company, and has thus far saved it from loss. I ast January to consummate the settlement then on company, and has thus far saved it from loss. I had also made large conditional sales of the forfeited stock, and had received generally therefor the notes of the purchasers, at from three to twelve months time; but some of these purchasers have withdrawn their notes, and others have otified me not to use them until farther directed. so that I cannot tell whether any of these con-ditional sales will now he carried out. It has heen suggested, as the surest mode of raising the deficit, that a half dozen persons at each of sundry localities could be induced, if the privilege is given them, to take a sufficient quantity of the reduced, forfeited, and surrendered stock to make up the deficiency, after ascertaining the amount paid in a fixed period. This must be done if stock are matter, and if ever my duties, as a monarch, weighed heavily on me, it is at this moment. paid in a fixed period. This must be done if stock-holders will not raise the required amount. Hence there must be a time fixed when we shall cease to look to the loan and installments of our stockholders, and shall look to the sale of the stock, or adopt other means of raising it. We have agreed upon the general terms of a ontract with experienced and able contractors to huild, furnish materials, and equip fifty miles of first-class road in twelve months from the final disposition of the State suit, at thirty thousand dollars per mile, to be paid for in the State loan the sum of four hundred and fifty thousand dol-lars, the ballance in the construction bonds, the lands at four d llars per acre, or the stock of the dollars per mile for twelve months after the com dollars per mile for twelve months after the completton of the contract. I am going to the City of New York now, to close up this contract. It will be seen that the company can pay for this work beyond a doubt. The loan is obtained from the State Treasury, the construction bonds or stock can be issued by the company, and the lands are ionaled by the State. ands are Jonaled by the State.

The construction of the fifty miles insures the loan and the lands to the company, and places the enterprise showe all doubt and difficulty in the ublic mind. It may be well to quote the law hy hich recusant stock-holders can be cut off. The fifth section of the act of 19th December, 1857, of Texas, provides that "The road hed, track, fran-chises, and chartered rights and privileges of any rallroad company in this State shall he subject to the payment of the dehts and legal liabilities of said company, and may he sold in satisfaction of the same; hut the said road bed, track, franchise, and in case of the sale of the same, whether hy virtue of an execution, order of sale, deed of trust, or any other power, the purchaser and asociates shall he entitled to have, and exercise all the powers, privileges and franchises granted to said company by its charter, or by the general laws of the State, and the said purchaser shall he deemed and taken to he the true owner of said charter and corporators under the same, and vested with all the powers, rights, privileges, and henefits thereof, in the same manner as if they were the original corporators, and shall have power to construct and work the road upon the same terms and conditions as are imposed by their charter and general laws of the State."

I would surgest that the tenth day of next would suggest that the teuth day of next month is as long as we can possibly wait with safety upon our slockholders to make the loan installments due and unpaid; and that from and after that day we should neither accept a loan or installment from those who have refused to make the payment to that date. Nor should we recognize their stock, but proceed to forfeit such stock, under the laws of Texas. Duty to our-selves, to all, and to the enterprise, requires us to take this course, and we must walk where duty

After a long convensation, Mr. Garvin offered the following resolutions: Resolved, That this convention approve the late compromise and settlement, also, the new policy of the com-pany, and recommend to the stockholders everywhere to contribute, as a loan to the company, fifty cents per share, as recommended by the convention held in this city, on the 29th day of November last.

Resolved, That all stockholders who have not yet made the loan and paid the installments due should do so made the loan and paid the installments due should do so by the 10th day of next Jnne, and all who refuse to do se should be excluded from any provisions that may be made, for the protection of those who have aiready made the loan, or paid ap the installments, or will do so by the time above indicated.

**Resolvesd,**That, in the opinion of the convention, it is right and proper to save the rights of ail stockholders who have and will contribute their means to free and save the enterprise, by cutting off all who refuse to contribute from any benefit resulting from the laber and means of these who contribute.

means of these who contribute.

Resolved, That the President of this company, for the ability, energy, forethought and courage with which he has worked out so great a result

On the vote being announced, Dr. Fowlkes arose, and in a neat speech made his acknowledgments for the comiment. The President continued his remarks in reply to questions from different stockhoiders, and gave a large amount of information in regard to various details of the husiness of the company. On motion.

Resolved, That the supplementary report of the President read to this meeting, and the proceedings of the meeting, be published in the city papers.

To Mr Proper: I have ordered my faithful and gallant army to put a stop to the inimical acts which, for a series of years, have heen committed by the neighboring State of Sardinia, against the indisputable right of my crown, and against the integrity of the realm, placed by God under my care; which acts have lately attained the very highest point. By so doing, I have fulfilled the painful but unavoidable duty of a Sovereign. My conscience heing at rest, I can look up to an Ominicient God, and patiently await his award with icient God, and patiently await his award with nicient God, and patiently await his award with confidence.

I leave my decision to the impartial judgment of contemporaneous and future generations. Of the approbation of my faithful subjects I am sure. More than ten years ago, the same enemy, violating international law, and the usages of war, and without any offence being given, entered the Lombardo-Venetian territory with the intention of acquiring possession of it. Although the enemy was twice totally defeated by my gallant army, and at the mercy of the victor, I behaved generously and proposed a reconciliation. I did not appropriate to myself one inch of his territory.—I encroached on no right which helongs to the crown of Sardinia.

As one of the members of the European family of nations I insisted on no gnarantees against the recurrence of similar events. The hand of peace which I in all sincerity extended, and which was taken, appeared to me to he a sufficient guarantee. The blood which my army shed for the honor and right of Austria, I sacrificed on the altar of peace. The reward for such unexampled forhearance was an immediate continuation of enmity, which increased from year to year, and perifidous against the peace and welfare of ny agitation against the peace and welfare of my lombordo-Venetian Kingdom. Well knowing what a precious hoon peace was for my people and for Europe, I patiently hore with these new hostilities. My patience was not exhausted when the more extensive measures, which I was forced to take in consequence of the regulationary estimates. to take in consequence of the revolutionary agito take in consequence of the revolutionary agitation on the frontiers of my Italian provinces, and within the same, was made an excuse for a higher degree of hostilities. Willingly accepting the well meant mediation of friendly powers for the maintenance of peace, I consented to hecome a party to a Congress of the five great powers. The four points proposed by the Royal Government of Great Britain, as a basis for the deliherations of the Congress, were forwarded to my Cahinet, and I accepted them with the conditions which were calculated to bring about a true, sincere and durable peace, in the consciousness that no step on the part of my Government could, even no step on the part of my Government could, even in the most remote degree, lead to a disturbance of the peace. I demanded that the power which was the cause of the complication, and had brought about the danger of war, should, as a preliminary measure, disarm.

Being pressed thereto by friendly powers, I at length accepted the proposal forta genral disarmament. The mediation failed, in consequence of the unacceptableness of the conditions on which Sardinia made her consent dependent. Only one means of obtaining peace remained. I addressed myself directly to the Sardinian government, and summoned it to place the army on a peace footing, and to disband the free corps.

As Sardlnia did not accede to my demand, the ment. War is the scourge of mankind. I see with sorrow that the lives and property of thousands of my subjects are imperilled, and deeply feel what severe trial war is fer my realm, which heing ccupied with its internal improvements, greatly equires the continuance of peace. But the heart of the Monarch must he silent at the command o of the Monarch must be silent at the command of bonor and duty.

On the frontier is an armed cuemy, who, in alliance with the revolutionary party, openly anounces his intention to obtain possession of the dependencies of Austria and Italy. To support him, the ruler of France, who, under a feeble pretext, interferes in the legally established relations of the Italian Peninsula, has sent his troops, nany of which have already crossed the frontier The crown which I received without a snot or blemish from my forefathers, has already seen trying times. The glorious history of our counry gives evidence that Providence, when there is a foreshadowing that the greatest good of humanity is in danger of being overthrown in Europe, has frequently used the sword of Austria, in orhings that be, is not only aimed at by factions, hut by thrones. [The original cannot he rendered literally, but its sense is that the present revolu-tionary movement is caused by monarchs, as well as by private individuals.] The sword which I have been forced to draw, is sanctified, as it is a defense for the honor and rights of all people and States, and for all that is held most dear by hu-

To you, my people, whose devotion to the hereditary reigning family may serve as a model for all the same; but the said road bed, track, Iranchise, and chartered powers and privileges shall be deemed an entire thing, and shall be sold as sucb, and in case of the sale of the same, whether hy virtue of an execution, order of sale, deed of virtue of an execution, order of sale, deed of into the army, I, their commander, extend my greeting. With pride you may regard them, for the eegle of Austria, with their support, will soar high. Our struggle is a just one, and we begin it with courage and confidence. We hope, however, that we shall not stand alone in it. The soil on which we have to do hattle, was made fruitful by the blood lost by our German brethren, when they won those bulwarks which they have maintained up to the present day. There the crafty enemies of Germany have generally begun their game, when they have wished to break her inter-

The feeling that such danger is now imminent, pervades all parts of Germany, from the but to the throne, from one frontier to the other. I speak as a sovereign member of the Germanic Confederation, when I call attention to the common danger and recall to memory the glorious times in which Europe had to thank the general and fervent en-thusiasm of Germany for its liheration.

For God and Fatherland. Given at my residence and metropolis of Vienna, on this 28th day of April, 1859. FRANCIS JOSEPH.

FRENCH MANIFESTO. The following Manifesto drawn up hy Count Walewski under the Emperor's dictation, has been dispatched to the different French Ambassadors at the various courts:

at the various courts:
Stz:—The communication which has been made hy order of His Imperial Majesty, to the Senate and to the Legislative hody, renderait needless for me to revert to incidents which have occupied the public opinion for some weeks past and have been the subject of my last dispatches. The gravity of the present state of affairs, has reached a culminating point, and the denouement before us will unhappily not he that which honest and persevering efforts have endeavored to obtain.

In such a serious conjunction it is a great consolation to the Emperor's government to be able to submit without hesitation to the verdict of Europe the overtices. rope, the question as to the power on which the responsibility of events rests. That the state of responsinity of events rests. I mat the state of things in Italy was abnormal; that the discontent and underhand agitation which resulted therefrom, constituted a danger for every one, which reason demanded to he stopped by a prudent precaution; that an inevitable crisis was at hand, was understood equally by England, Prussia and Russia as well as by France.

understood equally by England, Prussia and Russia, as well as by France.

The manimity of apprehensions immediately created conformity of sentiments and measures. Lord Cowley's mission to Vienna, the proposal of a Congress emanating from St. Petershurg; the support given by Prussia to these attempts at an arrangement, the eagerness of France to adhere to the combinations which followed each other up to the combinations which followed each other up to the last moment; all these acts, in a word, emanated from the same Inspiration—the sincere and lovely desire to consolidate peace by no longer ignoring a difficulty which so evidently threatened to disturb it. In this phase of the affair, the Emperor's Government has had its share of initiative action, but this share, I am particular in stating, has been mixed up with a collective labor.

France simply offered her co-operation as a great European power, to settle amicably and honestly with the other powers, a question which — I do not deny it—aroused her sympathies, but in which she did not yet perceive particular duties to fulfil or urgent interests to defend. The day upon which the Vienna Cahinet had promised hy a solemn declaration not to commence hostilities, it seemed itself to anticipate the attitude which any aggressive act against Piedmont would cause the Covernment of the Emperor to assume. Such an assurance, by giving time to the mediation of the powers to exert itself, apprised the Pope of the proximate meeting of the Congress.

the Vienna Cahinet suddenly opposes an act which, to characterize it so it deserves, is equivalent to a declaration of war. Thus Austria destroys alone, and with intent, the earnest labors of England, seconded so honestly hy Russia and Prussis, facilitated with so much moderation by France. Not only does she exclude Sardinia from the Congress—she anymas has France. Not only does she exclude Sardinia from the Congress—she summons her, under penalty of coercion, to disarm without any condition within three days. A large military force is displayed, at the same time, on the banks of the Ticino, and, to say the truth, it is in the midst of an advancing army that the Anstrian Commander-in-Chief awaits the reply of the Thrin Cahinet. You are aware of the imposition produced at London, Berlin, and St. Petersburg, by the untimely and fatal resolution of the Vienna Cahinet.

Cahinet.

The astonishment and disapproval of the three powers was displayed, as a protest which public opinion had echoed throughout all Enrope. If England, Prussia, and Russia, by the step they hastened to take, have been able to relieve their transferentiables and artisfactors are executions of moral responsibility and satisfy the exactions of their offended dignity, the Government of the Em-peror actuated, however, by an analogous consid-eration, had to mark its attitude more distinctly, and other ohligations were imposed upon it. Nothing modifies the solidacy which was estab-lished at the commencement have an acad ablished at the commencement between us and the mediating powers. The question remains at the hottom the same, but we have too much confidence in the intentions of which those powers have given us such striking proofs to fear for a moment that they should misunderstand the sense of the policy, which the ancient traditions and the imperi-ous necessities of geographical position so natur-ally indicate to us. ally indicate to us.

France, since a half a century, has never pretended to exercise an interested influence in Italy, and it is not she assuredly who can be accused of having attempted to wrouse the remembrance of ancient struggles and historic a rivalries. All that she has hitherto asked for—and treaties agree with her wishes—is that the States of the Peninaula should live for themselves and manage their own affairs at home as well as in their foreign recown affairs at home as well as in their foreign reaula should live for themselves and manual own affairs at home as well as in their foreign relations. I am not sware that a different view is taken at London, Berlin, or St. Petersburg, than taken at London, Berlin, or St. Petersburg, than at Paris. However it may be, circumstances have placed Austria toward the various powers of Itay, in a position unanimously judged as prepon-derating. Sardinia alone has hitherto escaped, an influence, which, by general consent, has changed in an important portion of Enrope, the balance of power which it was attempted to es-tablish exergishers also balance of power which it was attempted to establish everywhere else.

This fact was very grave, but whatever were one private sentiments, it might suffice for us, knowing the opinions of the other Cabinets, to point out to them the evil to correct. So much reserve where Sardinia is concerned, would be to forget any most sandial interests. It knot only orget our most essential interests. It is not only he conformation of the ground, which, on this ide, commands of the frontiers of France, but the passes of the Alps are not in our hands, and it is most important for us that the key should he kept at Turin, and at Turin only. French considerations—but which are also Euopean considerations, as long as respect of the ights and of the legitimate interests of the powers will continue to serve as a guide to their re-ciprocal relations—these considerations, I say, do not allow the Emperor's Government to hesitate upon the line of policy it ought to follow when a upon the line of policy it onght to follow when a State, so considered as Austria, uses threatening language towards Piedmont, and openly prepares to dictate laws to it. This ohigation acquires additional force from the refusal of Austria to discuss before acting. We do not wish, at any price, to find ourselves face to face with an accomplished fact, and it is such a fact which the Government of the Emperor is resolved to prevent. It is not, therefore, an offensive attitude; it is a measure of defence which we are now adopting. Ancient remembrances of the community of origin, and a recent alliance of the Sovereign houses unite us to Sardinia; these are serious reasons for ite us to Sardinia; these are serious reasons for ympathy which we fully appreciate, but which, perhaps, would not suffer to decide us. What listinctly points out our path is the permanent and hereditary interests of France. The absolute impossibility for the Emperor's government to allow a hlow to he struck which would establish at the foot of the Alps, contrary to the wishes of a friendly nation, and to the vish of its sovereign—a state of things which would sub-ject the whole of Italy to a foreign influence. His Imperial Majesty, strictly faithful to the words which he pronounced when the French people re-called him to the throne of the chief of his dynasty, is not animated by any personal ambition or desire of conquest. It is not long since the Emperor gave a proof in a European crisis that moderation was the soul of his policy; that moderation still presides over his designs, and while shielding the interests which Providence has entrusted to him, his Majesty has no ies, far from it, his Government referring to the ncidents which have marked the negotiations of the preceding weeks. The firm hope that the Government of her Britannic Majesty will continue ils perseverence in an attitude which by uni-ting hy a moral hond, the policy of the two coun

Russia, we are perfectly convinced, will be always ready to direct her efforts to the same end. As regards Prussia, the impariial, and at the same time conciliatory spirit, of which she has given proof since the commencement of the crisis, is a sure guarantee of her inclination to neglect nothing to circumseribe the explosure. neglect nothing to circumscribe the explosion.
We sincerely hope that the other powers which orm the German confederation, will not allow hemselves to be led astray by the remembrances of a different epoch. France can only hehold with sorrow the excitement which has seized upon some States of Germany, she does not understand how that great country, so calm, and so patriotically imhued with the knowledge of its strength, should fancy its safety menaced by events, the theatre of which must remain far from of Germany will soon admit, that it depends a great deal upon themselves to contribute to the limit, the extent, and the duration of a war, which limit, the extent, and the direction of a war, which France, if she has to take part in it, has, at least, the conscionsness of not having provoked.

I request you, sir, to point out the considerations developed in this dispatch in your next interview with M., and to leave him a copy. The clear language in which I now express myself, by the Emperor's orders, and which implies his Majesty's wish to give to the other Cabinets every possible guarantee to hring them to a tone of appreciation of the situation, and to re-assure them, masmuch as they are concerted, as to the them, inasmuch as they are concerted, as to the consequences, that it is difficult for me to suppose that the government of —— will not receive those explanations with a confidence equal to that which dictated them. I am, &c.,
[Signed.] WALEWSKI.

[From the Pays, May 1.] All sorts of rumors are affect, most of which nust be received with the greatest circumspec-ion, Among other things, it is said that an Ausrian corps d'armee has marched npon Novi, in order to cut off communication by the railway between Genoa and Turin. It is sufficient to say that French troops are at Genoa, and they will

The Austrians have entered Piedmont in three divisions. The first body, composed of twenty hattalions and eight batteries, had arrived at Gravelona, by 3 o'clock on the 29th. Their ad anced posts were at Vespopotate on the 30th, a all past 11 in the morning.

The second and more considerable corps made its movements on the night of the 29th. It has penetrated as far as Cussalo, near Vigevano; passed the ford of Abhiate Grasso, and began the march from Vigerano toward Mortara. The third is moving in the North. Yesterday morning it disembarked at Stress and Arona, on the Lago Maggiore. These details are contained in two dispatches sent to the Government by our Minis-ter at Turin, and published by the Moniteur this morning.

Another private dispatch maintains that the Austrians have likewise occupied Pallanza, an important town on the Lago Maggiore. It is difficult to say whether these different bodies are or are not on the road to Turin. A dispatch, received from that capital this manning delease that ed from that capital this morning, declares that the Austrians have occupied Niviza, and are ad-vancing on Vercelli. They must he, without doubt, the troops composing the first corps. Those of the second advancing on Mortara would take the direction of Cassaor Alessandria; those of the third would probably march on Botella and Torea, such at least are the suppositions which would be sug-gested by the enemy's movements.

[From the Press, May let.] A dispatch from Berne, April 20th, sava: The enemy, after having occupied lutra and Pallanza, on the Lago Maggiore, has cut the telegraph wires, communicating with Switzerland.

Another dispatch from Turiu this morning, Another dispatch from Turn this morning, tells us the Austrians have occupied Novara since the evening of the 39th, and are advancing on Vercelli. We hear also from Vasana, the news of an engagement who hook place an the Lago Maggiore, between the Justician and Piedmontese flotillas. This runner seems to us without ers on the lake, fearing the approach of an attack which they were not in a condition to resist, had placed themselves under the protection of Swiss neutrality, and were immediately disarmed, by order of the Federal Conneil.

You will find yourselves opposed to no new eacemy; hat if he be hrave and disciplined, you do not fear the meeting, and may hoast of the days of Goito, of Pestrengo, of Santo Lircia, of Lomma Campagna, of Castoza, itself; where only four hrigades contended for three days with five corps d'armee. I will be your leader. On former cocasions we have known a great part of you in the heats of comhats, and I, fighting hy the side of my magnanimous father, admired your valor with pride. On the field of honor and of glory, you, I am certain, will know how to preserve, and also to increase your fame as valiant soldiers. You will have for your companions those intreput soldiers of France, conquerers in so many great hattles, whose comrades you were in the Tchernaya, and whom Napoleon the Third, ever hastening where there is a just cause to defend, and civilization to nphold da far prevalere, generously sends to our aid in namerons bands.

THE PRUSSIAN MANIFESTO. At the sitting of the Prussian Chamber on the 28th nlt., the following communication was made by the Baron de Schleinitz, the Minister for Forign Affairs: GENTLEMAN:—At the moment when the Prussian Parliament is about to meet after a short respite, events are taking place, far from us. The differences between Austria on the one hand, and Sardinia and France on the other, have owreached a point which leads to the fear that war reached a point which leads to the fear that war is inevitable.

England has made a last attempt to preserve peace, and all hope is not yet lost; but the Government must own that such hope is very slight, at though under such circumstances in the obscurity of the existing state of things, the Government is not in a position to make a more circumstantial statement to the representatives of the nation, it nevertheless feels it a duty to say what measures it has thought necessary to take.

Seeing armaments being made everywhere, the government has, for sometime, heen occupied with the measures which ought to be adopted. The hope of the maintenance of peace, which lately prevailed, had hitherto prevented it from carrying the measures into execution. Actuated by the sentiment that the welfare of Germany, as well as its own, was at stake, it did not confine itself, independently of other precautionary measures, to placing the corps d'armee on a war footing; hut it proposed to the German Diet to calout the Federal contingents, and that proposition has been immediately adopted.

A Political Feeler-The Hon. Linn Boyd. On Sunday last the Cincinnati Enquirer, whose Black Republican editor, now disguised as a Dem ocrat, on the 15th day of February, 1847, voted in Congress with, the notorious Abolitionist Joshua R. Giddings, for the odious Wilmot Proviso, and who now maintains, in spite of the opinion of the Supreme Conrt in the Dred Scott case, that slavery does not exist under the Constitution in the Ter ritories of the United States, contained the following very significant paragraph:

We learn that a rumor prevailed at Lexington, Ky., yesterday, that the Hon. Linn Boyd had resigned his position on the State ticket, as candidate for Lieutenant Governor, on account of his inability, arising from protracted illness, to canvass the State previous to the election. In conception with that rumor was another that the nection with that rumor was another, that the Central Committee would put in Mr. Boyd's place Mr. Simms, just nominated for Congress in the Ashland District, and that Hon. James B. Clay would be compelled by his friends to be the candidate in place of Mr. Simms.

We have heard of political feelers being thrown out through newspapers, and we regard the Enquirer s rumor-paragraph as a thing of that kind. It requires no particular stretch of the imagina tion to understand how this rumor originated, and how it made its way to the public. It is lo cated at Lexington, where some will have it, that a clique, of suspicious antecedents and designs, exists. It was not published in the local papers of Lexington, but made its way to Cincinnati to appear in an insidious sheet, owned and edited by a Mr. Boyd had declined to make the race for Lieu-Northern Abolition wolf in Southern Democratic sheep's clothing. They this he true, the Enquirer's sensation feeler will know that to-day he possesses the affections and amount to nothing. We sincerely hope that his confidence of the Democracy as much as any man condition is not such as to make it necessary for in the State. They know that he is the very soul him, in any event, to withdraw from the race for Lieutenant Governor. Such a thing would be a will he either a trimmer or a time server. The sad political calamity in Kentucky at this time. When hew as nominated many thought his age and political fame fitted him for the first place upon the State ticket, rather than the second. The Convention, however, assigned him the second place, and he accepted it as a loyal Democrat, ready and willing to work anywhere for the good of his party. His help is now much needed, and we trust that his health will permit bim to stump the United States Senator. Mr. Boyd has been hunted State in the glorious cause. His cheering voice is the State at this time would send a thrill of joy and hope through the great Democratic heart, and do more than anything else to crush the Donglas heresy of non-protection, now attempted to he fastened upon the party by the cry of non-intervention. We must say, however, to the Cincinnati Enquirer, and to all concerned in the rumor it has put forth as a feeler, that if the health of Mr. Boyd should compel him to decline, it is the opinion of many that it would not do for the Central Committee to put Capt. Simms in his place. Capt. Simms bas been nominated for Congress in the Ashland District, and he should stick to his post. The politicians of the Blue Grass region may not be allowed a monopoly of all the offices and honors of the State. A nomination for Congress is enough for Capt. Simms In one year, and we do not think that he will permit sensation feelers to claim more for him. If Mr. Boyd's place is vacated, the Sonthern part of the State should fill it. Thos. C. McCreary, or Willis B. Machen, or others that might be named, onght to come in for the place before the Central Committee should presume to take Capt. Simms from the place already assigned him, and fill Col. Boyd's vacancy with him, while they thus left Simms' place again to be filled. This would be placing rather too much power in the hands of the Central Committee. It would make of them a species of squatter sovereigns in contradistinction to popular sovereigns. The De mocracy are willing for the Central Committee and Lexington clique, singly or conjointly, to exercise all the power that is due them, but when it is proposed for them not only to parcel out State, Congressional, district, and county offices, togetber with a place in the United States Senate, and the Presidency itself, the good people might think that the Central Committee and the Lexington clique were exercising a little too much power in behalf of a particular portion of the State. And while speaking of the Hon. Linn Boyd, it may not be amiss to inform the Cincinnati Enquirer of another rumor in this State that is rapidly growing into a reality. The popular mind of the Democracy of the Sonthern part of this State, as well as that of other sections outside of the Blue Grass region, is looking to the seat soon to vacated in the United States Senate by the Hon. John J. Crittenden, as a fitting place for the crowning honor of the old Democratic war-horse of Kentucky, who is now upon his sick bed at the city of Brotherly Love. We have had more than one letter advocating that view of the archivet and otter advocating that view of the subject, and have conversed with more than one Democrat who is for it. Col. Boyd is sound upon the slavery question, and would go to the United States Sonate with the right views upon the subject. He holds, as we do, that neither Congress nor a Toritorial Legislature, nor the inhabitants of a Ter-

Another Voice from Kentacky. At a very large meeting of the Democracy of Shelby county, Ky., the following resolutions were unanimously adopted. They breath the right spirit, and clearly foreshadow the position that the Kentucky Democracy will occupy in the great struggle in 1866. We have had the pleasure, within a few days, of conversing with a distinguished Democrat of our own State, who has recently heen in Kentucky, and he assures us that Douglass is a general favorite with the Democracy Douglas is a general favorite with the Democracy of that State, and that he believes her vote may be safely calculated on for him in the Charleston

That we repudiate intervention as fraught with danger to the integrity of our party, the interest of the South, and the perpetuity of the Union, as at war with our plighted faith and avowed creed, as solemnly defined by the Compromise of 1850, ratified by the Kansas-Nebraska act, and indorsed by the Cincinnati platform. ntervention by Congress, upon the subject of We copy the above from the Terre Haute (Ind.) The Terre Haute Journal is a Douglas several distinct calls for a count. They do not the position of Kentneky in the great struggle for doubt, as an original proposition, for non-inter-

Congress against such interference. Our can dl-

From a personal visit, we are enabled to say that this gentleman is slowly progressing towards a complete restoration to health and strength.—

Since our former notice, Mr. Boyd has suffered a temporary relapse, but all his symptoms are now of the most encouraging character. Though Mr. Boyd may not be able to reach home so soon as we indicated, still the time will not be pushed much further into the spring or summer months.

ALL Stockholders must now make the advance of 60 eents per share upon their stock, and send their certificates to D. O. Wilder, Secretary, at Marshall, Texas, for a reissue. The loan made and pald into my hands has protected those who have paid it, and secured thereby the opportunity to all for a temporary period of being also protected by now promptiy paying. All who fail or neglects do so now, must and will be cut off as clogs to the enterprise! I have no alternative left, as the President of the Company, but to enforce this policy. Those who have paid up have done so with this express and unconditional understanding, that all should be made to pay—thereby enabling the President and Directors to free the Company of Hitgation and every impediment to the successful prosecution of the enterprise—by a compromise. A new policy has been inaugurated. Salaries and expenses have been reduced from $50,000 per anum to $13,000. The whole stock liability has been reduced one-half in amount without injury to any stockholder who shall pay up—reduced to the actual value of the property of the Company, without estimating the rights and franchises at anything.

We must pay promptly our debts, and we must provide the means to construct the road, in order to reap the profits of the enterprise and secure the grants made by Texas to our company.

PROF. J. K1BLER, of Virginia, may be consulted at the gentlemens' parlor of the Gait Honse of this city, by the uniortunate sufferers of the sforenamed maisdy, without charge, until the 21st of May. He treats and cures Stammering upon new principles, which never have falled to effect a radical cure. His system will expose the defects of the old theories; show why they would not result in a radical cure, and why his, of necessity, must. None need hesitate to give him a call. He will convince the most scientific aceptics (as he has done, and has their certificates to show) that a cure can be effected in the most obstinate cases. He will show and prove the local cause of stammering to the patient, which is a new discovery in the science, and one which he will also prove to be in illspensibly requisite to a cure. GARNETT PROPERTY.

L'NQUIRIES bave been frequently addressed to mem-bers of our Company relative to the price of prop-erly in Garnett, to which our almost invariable reply bas been that it was not in market. Our Company pre-Of a Letter from a Medical Gentleman, have heen sent out from Louisville, dwellings, stores, and a school house put up, lots granted for churches, and a school house put up, lots granted for churches, and subscriptions for two of them already strated; county roads have been huilt, bringing Garnett in their track, and a railroad is already chartered by the Kansas Legislature that makes it its central point.
These have been done, and this month Garnett has been chosen county seat by election of the people over four other commettions, lacking only ten of getting as four other competitors, tacking only ten of getting as many votes as all the others added together; thus showmany votes as all the others added together; thus showling how it stands with the people.

With these improvements then, we, for the first time, advertise lots for sale in Garnett. The President of our Company leaves for there this (Friday) evening, for the purpose of directing the putting up of the connty hulldlings, towards the erection of which we have contributed

THE RIVER continues falling, though but slowly, with 3 feet 3 inches water on the falls last evening. In the canal there were 5 feet 3 inches by the mark—a fall of 3 inches during the previous 24 hours. The weather was rather cloudy, but dry all day, and quite warm. At Pittsburgh and Cincinnati the river still recedes, and low water is now the cry, and hoatmen are wishing for the "June rise" in advance.

The upper Mississippi and the wild Missouri are booming high, with the annual "mountain rise" coming down the latter, which looks threatening to the overflowed districts along the lower river.

The officers of the Southerner, from Memphis, report the river falling all the way with the river. report the river falling all the way, with the water once more confined within its natural limits or banks, and the towns of Hickman, Columbus,

Cairo, and others, all high and dry.

The mud in the canal has heen pretty well removed, and all the boats which were detained, some twenty-four, and others forty-eight bours, have worked their way out. nense sand har, as we have before noted, has formed in the channel, just helow the mouth of the canal, extending outfrom Sand island.—

This makes the channel narrow and difficult, with a swift current, and the boats going to or coming out of the canal, have to use all their steam to keep away from the hank. THE MARTHA PUTNAM SUNK-HEAVY DAMAGE TO

THE MARTHA PUNNAM SUNK—HEAVY DAMAGE TO FREIGHT.—The Martha Putnam, Capt. Jewett, from Cincinnati, with a heavy load of assorted and miscellaneous merchandize for St. Louis, sunk yesterday afternoon by swinging against the rock bound shore just helow the canal. Her stern struck the shore, demolishing the water wheel (she is a stern wheeler), and tearwater wheel (she is a stern wheeler), and tearing away or shattering her stern post and rudder. This caused her to leak, and in about an hour she sunk—first drifting past Portland, then to New Albany, where one of the ferry boats attempted to land her. She was perfectly unmanageable, and finally two ferry boats took the ainking hoat in tow, and towed her over to the Ken-tacky shore, when she sunk on the har, at West lle, in about seven feet water. The boat had been detained 24 hours in the canal, and after getting through it vesterday, her bow struck the har at Saud island, causing her stern to swing round against the other shore. The current was very swift, and she struck the rocks with great force. She had a good many passengers, the most of whom hecame excessively rightened, and when the ferry hoats came along side they jumped on them like a flock of sheep, and no lives were lost. The boat lies nearly straight, how up stream, with her stern under water, and her how out. The water amidships was about? feet deep, with the how in 5 feet water.

Capt. Jewett entered protest here, and we understand gave the charge of the hoat to his second clerk. The freight will probably he saved, though in a damaged condition, and it is thought the boat can be easily raised. She is owned by the Captain and others, who have not one cent of insurance. The cargo is insured in Cincinnati. Her passengers were distributed among the other boats in port, including the Rochester and High Fiver, and the Empire City to-day expects to get a portion of her treight.

terrible steamboat explosions, which regularly occur every few months on the Western waters, have never been fully explained or understood, though common sense opinions lead to the inevitable conclusion that the engineer on duty had hecome careless, and let the water get too low in the boilers, or that the hoilers were old and defective. Constant watching, and making owners responsible for all damage and loss, would obviate the first; and the substitution of new boilers for old ones would remedy the latter evil.

One of the causes of the terrible explosions that occasionally occur, has been attributed to the STRANBOAT EXPLOSIONS .- The direct causes of the occasionally occur, has been attributed to the pressure, or generation of electricity in the hoil-ers when highly heated. Practical tests have discovered this annihilating agent in boilers, and the late Richard L. Lloyd, of Philadelphia, experiactuliz rods were inserted to carry off the explo-ive fluid, and he found it impossible to burst hem. This subject should command the attention of our Western boatmen. An "engineer of many years experience" has been furnishing the t Louis Republican with a series of articles, in to the late disaster of the St. Nicholas. ubjoined are a few extracts from his last com-numeration, which reflect, somewhat, upon the aspectors, and seriously on the owners:

ne hydrostatic test is looked upon by a great many ineers an lothers, as being more injurious, particu-y to old boilers, than beneficial in determining their treng h and capacity to resist pressure; for it is sidered by some as being a more intense and wedge-like strain than would be produced, even at the same pressure, by a fluil of more elastic properties than water; and by others, on account of the great excers of pressure that is used by Inspectors in testing both old and new boliers, over that allowed by steam in the same

Now, can any man say that boilers whose bottems are full of these cracks can be called rate, even immediately a "ter inspection and test by the impactor! I have never heard of any inspector under the present law making close examination of the bottoms of boilers, i.e., by going under them.

Now, suppose that an engineer of a steamboat is revy too supensive for a steamboat.

To our friend Judge, clerk of the Eclipse, we are indebted for a list of the cargo of the hoat or New Orleans, forwarded from Cairo. She had heavy freight, including about 1,000 barrels of our, 541 hbds of tobacco, and 3,489 hags of corn. Owing to the decline of the river, and the advance in prices of produce, breadstuffs, and provisious, the boatman have very wisely concluded to advance the rates of freight.

The Fanny Bullitt, for New Orleans, is making engagements at 25 to 30 cents for pound freights, $3 50 per hogshead for tohacco, and 50 to 60 cents per barrel for pork.

The Woodford cleared for New Orleans last night with a good freight, including 800 barrels pork, 1,000 packages of rope and hagging, 125 hogsheads of tohacco, and a lot of whisky and

The Ohio is within its hanks from Cairo up, and the farms all dry, and ploughing and planting rapidly progressing. The river has fallen so much, that large hoats are forced in many places to confine themselves to the channel. The hars are visible at Mt. Vernon, Evansville, and other points on the river.

The attention of the public is respectfully invited to an examination of his goods. He has secured the services of Mr. W. W. By my record, the watch exhibits the following remarkable result:

1858, February 18, " 30 "

1858, March 15, " 38 "

1858, March 16, " 34 "

Thus showing from actual noting a variation of fiva seconds in as many months. I may also mention that I have never favored the watch in any way, but have used it daily about my usual occupations.

Lest I may be accused of exaggeration, I will not express the high estimation in which I hold these watches; but will simply say that, taking into consideration the difficulties in the way of perfect timekeeping, their performance is marcellous. G. W. HALLETT.
